AMONG THE CLUBS

At the Woman's Club.

At the Woman's Club.

The first musicale given this autumn under the direction of Mrs. Ernest A. Hoen, the chairman of the Musical Committee at the Woman's Club for the year was a delight to the large audience that assembled to listen to it.

Mrs. Royall T. Webster, of Baltimere, and Mr. R. Lynn Tucker, of Staunton, Va., who made their first appearance at the club, sang splendidly, their selections being specially adapted to bring out the best qualities of Mrs. Wobster's reautiful soprano, and Mr. Tucker's pure tenor voice.

The two artists whom Richmond has recently cordially welcomed within musical and social circles were heard with high appreciation that vented itrelf, several times during the evening, in admiring applause.

Mr. Ernest Cosby, the accompanist of the evening, is so well established in the favor of Richmond people, as to need no more than a mention of his name to render the accompanion of his name to render the der the assurance that he was an admirable factor in the presentation of the programme.

An unusually large audience was present, guests of many of the members help-ing to swell the crowd.

. Dramatic Club.

A dramatic club has been organized in Charlottesville, Va., with Mr. John T. Charlottesyllie, Va., with Mr. John I.-Hancock, as president; Miss Marguerite Marshall and Miss Katherine Olivier, vice-presidents; Mr. Rives Wolfe, libra-rian; Mr. T. J. Wertenbaker, treasurer. The Dodeka.

A number of prominent society women in Lynchburg, Va., have organized a social club, called "The Dodeka," with a view to giving a series of elaborate and beautiful entertainments. The membership of the club at present includes Mrs. George P. Watkins, Mrs. Gustav Stalling, Mrs. Robert Strother, Mrs. William H. Steptoe, Mrs. Paul Edmunds, Mrs. Pecker, Mrs. A. White, Mrs. Peyton Winfree, Mrs. Edmund Schaafer, Mrs. Montgomery Dingee, Mrs. Stockton Terry, and Mrs. John H. Lewis.

At the next meeting of the Lynchburg Woman's Club, in the club house, on Friday atternoon, Dr. Samuel Slaughter

Friday afternoon, Dr. Samuel Slaughter will take to the club on "Hypnotism and Physic Science." The election of several officers will also take place.

Thursday Club.

The Thursday Club, of Badford City, Va., has chosen for its president, Mrs. E. Sumter Smith: Mrs. E. D. Gregory is vice-president, and Mrs. S. R. Reading, secretary. The members will meet twice a month for social and reading purposes; Tennyson's "idylls of the King" having been selected for study this winter. Mrs. S. R. Reading was the hostess of the club on Thursday last, and was assisted in the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Walter Ruan.

Woman's Club in Norfolk.
The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot of Sunday

says:
"Norfolk has long wished to establish a woman's club, such as the one in Rich mond, which is of infinite value socially mond, which is of infinite value socially and intellectually, not only to its members, but the community at large. This is to be consummated next Thursday evening, when those who have been invited to become charter members will hold their first meeting in the assembly hall of the Atlantic Hotel.

"The promoters have arranged a course of fine lectures to be presented during the coming winter and spring.

Who, when he walks in sunshine or in shade, By woodland bowers, or bare beach of the sea, O'er hilltop, or in valleys green, with me, Throws off his age, and gambols like a child. Hygiene in Childhood.

Hygiene in Childhood.

The first lecture in the course, on the "Hygiene of Childhood," given by Dr. W. S. Gordon at the Richmond Training School for Kindergartners, No. 14 West. Main Street, took place last Thursday, and was an eminent success. The audience, which numbered about one hundred, was composed of mothers, kindergartners and primary teachers.

Over fifty representatives from the Mothes' Clubs attended. Dr. Gordon discussed the physical peculiarities of children and their effect upon the mental and moral natures.

The next lecture will take place on Thursday, the 9th, at 14:30 P. M., at the same place. The subject will be "The Hygiene of the Schoolroom."

The third and last lecture, on Thursday, the 16th, will be on "The Diseases of Children and How to Detect Their First Symptoms." It is hoped that the teachers and members of the Mothers' Clubs will again avail themselves of the opportunity to extend their knowledge on these important lines. All teachers are cordially invited.

ELECTON, VA., Nov. 6.-This town, situated at the junction of the Chesapeake and Western with the Norfolk and Western, is beautiful for situation, of known healthfulness, and of no little thrift and business activity.

Nestled among the mountains, the Blue Ridge holding it in on three sides, with the noble Massanutton rising to magrificent proportions on the other one, the limpld water of the beautiful Shenandoah flowing hard by, it is diffi-cult to conceive of a situation more loveller or one better adapted to town cuit to conceive of a situation more loveller or one better adapted to town purposes.

The natural healthfulness of the town has been much enhanced by the introduction there of lithia water from the Elk spring, which flows in abundance from the foot of the Blue Ridge about a mile out of town.

The summer resorts which follow the mineral waters of the State have shown themselves here. The Elkton, a large hotel on the outsidirts of dip town, though closed for the winter, is open eight months in the year, and carries its full complement of guests. Its highest number last year reached over one hundred. Its genial propletor, Mr. A. C. Drawbaugh, assisted by his amiable lady, caters successfully to his quests, and once under the hospitable roof of the Elkton they are sorry to depart and glad to come again.

The town has not reached the handsome proportions laid out for it in boom days, when people all over the State went wild in their haste to be rich, but the hum of the machinery of two or three industries left over by the boom is still heard in the land. Notably among these is the trapery, owned by Mesers. is still nearly in the man. Notary among these is the tanners, owned by Messrs. The barrel stave factory of Messrs. M. M. Jannan & Co., under the able management of its popular superintendent, Mr. John E. Tompkins, late of Albemarle county, is doing a fine business. Its output is 12,000 staves a day when in active operation. This likewise brings employment to many people. Another industry which, though, temporary, is bringing much money into the town, is the apple crop, which is now being gathered and shipped principally to Pittsburg. It is estimated that at least 10,000 bushels will be shipped from this point before the season is over-Milums, Baldwins, Ben Davis and Johnsons are some of the varieties being

Chapman Tells of Taking Possession of Distillery

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GREENSBORO, N. C., November 6 .-The third week of the trial of the Old Nick Distilling Company began in the Federal Court this morning. The government witnesses were from several States, being saloonkeepers, druggista and revenue officers.

The most important was Revenue Agent The most important was Revenue Agent Chapman, of Greensboro, who conducted the party of Kentucky distillers and manufacturers out to Williams's distillery last week under directions of [Nistrict Attorney Holton, took possession of the plant and made a day's run of the beer on hand for distillation. He testified that the yield in whiskey out of beer from one hundred bushels of train was five hundred and seventy. grain was five hundred and seventy gallons, and that the maximum allowed by government regulations from that quantity of grain was three hundred and fifty gallons. .

On cross examination, he stated that it On cross examination, he stated that it was not customary to thus take possession of whiskey plant in the absence of the proprietor, that the party accompanying him were not deputized omeers.

He admitted that yield of whiskey from beer varied with asmospheric conditions and other causes and that test made last week might have produced much less had material undergone longer fermentation. While witness stated he did mentation. While witness stated he did not authorize members of party to carry pistols and guns they might have had but made no exhibition of them them, but made no exhibition of them in his presence.

Other witnesses had testified that J. S. Miner, the Kentucky distillery contractor who had the trouble with Williams about a settlement last year, had flourished a pistol around, and that Deputy Collector Nissen had a double-barrelled shot gun. One of the government witnesses testifying to this and finity contradicting Miner, was Deputy Collector McKoy, who was among the raiding or investigating party sent out by District Attorney Holton.

From the defendants questions it is plain they propose claiming that a general outrage was committed by sending this delegation of Kentucky whiskey rivals manufacturers, headed by Miner, on such a mission, while the proprietors were known to be held here on trial and unable to prevent what they term a high-handed trespass.

TRUE BILLS.

Gregory and Twenty Others Are Indicted in Hustings Court.

Indicted in Hustings Court.

The grand jury which did business in the Hustings Court yesterday turned out a large quantity of grist for Judge Witt's mill to grind upon during the remaindar for the November term of the court. They found true bills of indictment against twenty-one persons.

Among the indictments found was one against Willoe C. Gregory for grand larceny. He is charged with taking and converting to his own use the funds of the Security Trust and Iddo Insurance Company.

The jury also brought in true bills against twenty-one colored persons of both sexes, Robbery, grand larceny and malledous wounding were the felonies charged. The grand jury, of which Mr. John Bolling, Jr., was foreman, completed it work by 2 o'clock, and was discharged for the term.

There will be no session of the court to-day. The petit jury will be called to-morrow and cases set for trial.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., November 6.—A suit entered in the District Court here by Mrs. Nellie B. Hewitt against Mrs. Columbia Robbins reveals a strange, solemn compact between two women, which has not been dreamed of by the versatile modern novellst. Mrs. Hewitt's complaint recites that in May, 1802, professing earnest love for and confidence in each other, she and Mrs. Robbins signed what is really a marriage contract, as follows: (By Associated Press.) GUADALAJARA, MEX., Nov 6.—It is imored in railway circles that the outhern Pacific Railroad, which is now preparing to build a line from Gunymas to this city, will not stop at Guadala-jara, but will continue into the city of Mexico.
